RM Williams Australian Bush Learning Centre to feature Rose Hamilton-Barr's exhibition 'Faith, Hope and Love'

North Burnett Regional Council Deputy Mayor Cr Faye Whelan is pleased to announce that the photographic works of Rose Hamilton-Barr will feature at the RM Williams Australian Bush Learning Centre's newest exhibition opening on Saturday 12, January 2019, commencing 11am.

"The exhibition, titled 'Faith, Hope and Love', features inspiring landscapes printed on a variety of medium, all showcasing the extraordinary and diverse talent of portrait photographer Rose Hamilton-Barr", Deputy Mayor Whelan said.

Photo journalist Rose Hamilton-Barr was gifted her first camera at age seven and has continued taking photos on and off throughout the years, with 2019 being Rose Hamilton-Barr's 19th year as a professional portrait and family photographer. Rose has a number of photography students and also facilitates workshops.

This stunning exhibition features inspiring photos printed on metal, acrylic and canvas. 'Faith, Hope and Love' is a celebration of creation, and Rose sincerely hopes everyone will enjoy the photographs.

Residents and visitors are invited to the official exhibition opening at the RM Williams Australian Bush Learning Centre on Saturday, 12 January, where they can take the opportunity to meet the artist in person. For those that cannot make the opening this unique display will be open to the public until Monday, 11 February 2019.

For further information regarding the exhibition, tour group bookings, or to hold a display, please contact the RM Williams Australian Bush Learning Centre's friendly staff on 07 4165 7272 or email info@rmwilliamscentre.com.au
